INAUGURATION of JOSEPH H. HAGAN

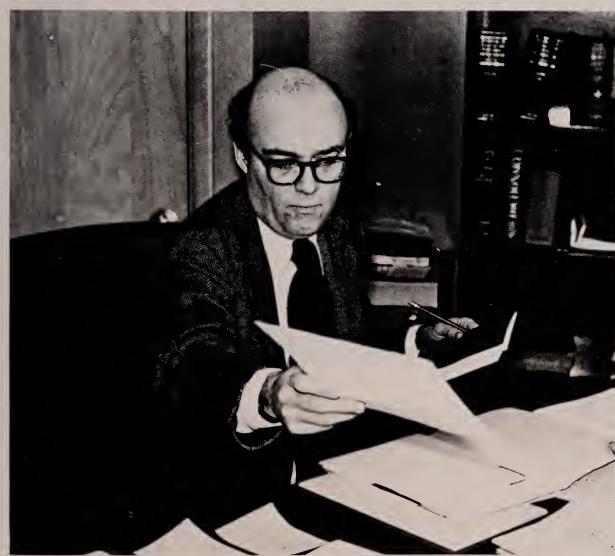

as Fourteenth President of Assumption College

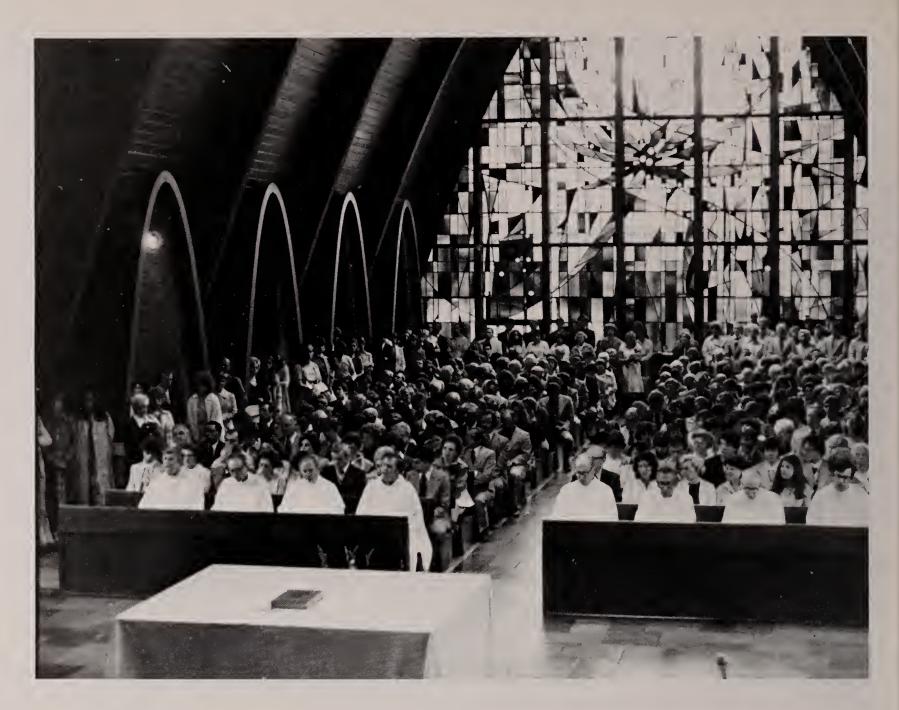

". . . I am often asked if I truly believe that small, Catholic liberal arts colleges like Assumption can survive into the next century. Of course I do. And I believe it precisely because I am convinced that their survival is necessary if our entire American system of higher education is to remain strong and healthy . . ."

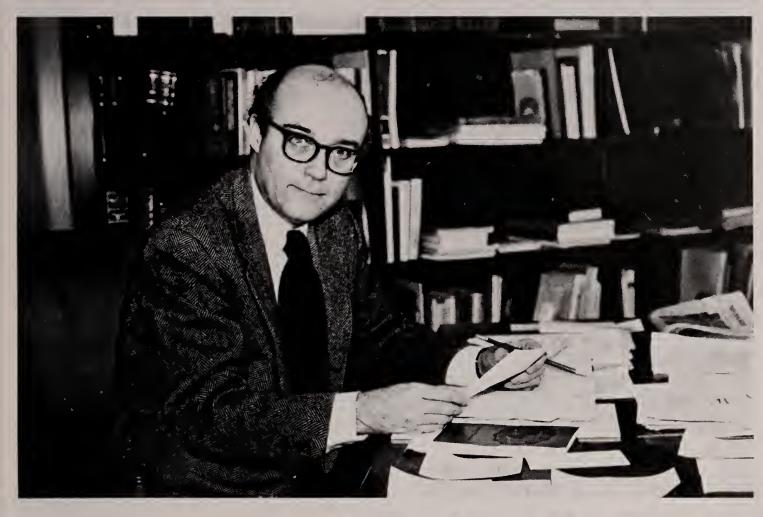

". . . But in order to achieve their survival, such schools must remain true to the purpose of their founders, be prudent in the management of their resources and be vigorous in seeking support from all who believe in the value of pluralistic education in a free society . . ."

". . . Here at Assumption we have a big job ahead of us. But we face the future with faith and confidence. As the new leader of this academic community, I ask that you join me in this great adventure. Give me your hand, and together we shall go forward to meet tomorrow with a prayer on our lips and a song in our hearts."

". . . The heart of any college is its faculty. I have said on a number of occasions that one of the principal reasons I accepted the Presidency of Assumption was the high regard I have always had for the reputation of this faculty. Their scholarship, excellence in teaching, and sincere interest in students are exemplary . . ."

". . . Just as the heart of the college is our faculty, so is the soul of this school the Assumptionist Fathers and Brothers. They are the guarantors of the character of this institution, and I cherish them for what they are and what they represent . . ."

"... Without the Assumptionists, there would be no Assumption College, and their continued presence is essential to our survival . . ."

You always won everytime you placed a bet You're still damn good No one's gotten to you yet Everytime they were sure they had you caught You were quicker than they though You'd just turn your back and walk You always said The cards would never do you wrong The trick you said Was never play the game too long A gambler's share The only risk that you would take The only loss you could forsake The only bluff you couldn't fake And you're still the same I caught up with you yesterday Moving game to game No one standing in your way Turning on the charm Long enough to get you by You're still the same You still aim high There you stood Everybody watched you play I just turned and walked away I had nothing left to say Cause you're still the same Moving game to game Some things never change You're still the same

100 DAYS PARTY

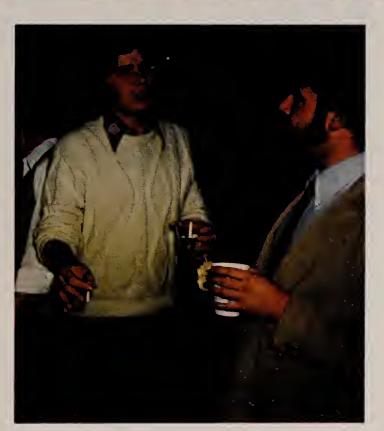

Everything comes and goes
Marked by lovers
and styles of clothes
Things that you held high
And told yourself were true
Lost or changing as the days come down to you
Constant stranger
You're a kind person
You're a cold person too
It all comes down to you

Everything comes and goes
Pleasure moves on too early
And trouble leaves too slow
Just when you're thinking
You've finally got it made
Bad news comes knocking
At your garden gate
Knocking for you
Constant stranger
You're a brute —
You're an angel
You can crawl —
you can fly too
It all comes down to you

Don't be dismayed at good-byes.
A farewell is necessary before you can meet again
And meeting again, after moments or lifetimes, is certain for those who are friends.
